

WSCB

STUDENT CHAPTER

@ wscbstudentchapter

@ wscbstudentchapteruwmadison

About Us

- Promote the science and practice of conservation throughout Wisconsin through networking events, lectures, workshops, outreach, and volunteer work
- Statewide chapter deriving from the National Society for Conservation Biology (>6,000 members)

Membership

- Any student of ANY major or year
- No membership fees
- No time commitment

Visit our Website to Become a Member!

What We Do

- Litter Clean-Ups
- Painting & Documentary Nights
- Conservation Fundraisers
- Host Guest Speakers
- Local Volunteering
- Climate Marches
- Citizen Science
- Conservation Education
- Local Field Trips
- Connect Members with Conservation Professionals
- Promote conservation-related certifications (like chainsaw, prescribed burning, and scuba, wilderness first aid)

Knowledge & Leadership for

A Sustainable Future ◀

WSCB Guest Speaker

Bridget Gilmore

UW-Madison Conservation Biology Alumnus

Yale School of the Environment
Graduate
Specializing in Energy & Business

EDF Climate Corps Fellow
DOE Tech-to-Market Scholar

See where conservation biology can take you!

Paths to/from undergraduate, graduate, research fellowships, and careers in sustainability. Discussion followed by Q
& A with Bridget. Oct. 11 6:30 on Zoom!

JOIN WSCB-STUDENT CHAPTER FOR THE ANNUAL

PUMPKIN PAINTING

RSVP on our website under "events"
Thurs. Oct. 28 | 7-9pm | Location TBD

Volunteer Opportunity

Earth Law Center Mission: Rights of Nature. Rights of Future Generations. A New Ecological Social Contract.

ELC seeks motivated volunteers to continue the development and implementation of its marketing campaign for a first-of-its-kind coursebook: Earth Law: Emerging Ecocentric Law-A Guide for Paractitioners.

Project Areas Include

- Design & development of marketing materials
- Planning events with educators to share ELC curriculum
- Client communications using CRM databases; email marketing, following up with leads, etc.
- Promoting Earth Law Center's mission on campus and to institutions

Email drindy@wisc.edu if interested!

~2 openings; more in the future!

Apply digital design/marketing skills, networking with campus organizations and clients, more TBD