

WSCB International Crane Foundation Field Trip - Fall 2022!

Group picture in front of the ICF sign!

Pair of endangered Whooping Cranes; native to North America.

A fan favorite, the grey Crowned Crane; native to Africa and also endangered.

A lone Red Crowned Crane, native to Eastern Asia and also endangered.

A pair of Wattled Cranes, native to Africa.

Group observing the Wattled Cranes' habitat.

Pair of Demoiselle cranes, native to Eurasia.

Group observing a Sarus crane, found in Australia, SE Asia, and India.

A Blue crane, native to South Africa.

Group observing the Blue cranes' habitat.

A pair of Sandhill cranes, the second species native to North America.